What is a Redevelopment District?

□

A Redevelopment District is an area designated by the Mayor and Council as being in need of revitalization. It is not a quick fix up of the area designated, but is used as a tool to encourage and aid private development. The Redevelopment Plan lays out broad goals and guidelines for the area to be revitalized. The establishment of a Redevelopment District is the responsibility of the Mayor and City Council. State statutes provide an outline of material to be included in the plan.
